Plan:

1. Using words in a conversation in English.
2. To enlarge learners speaking skills
3. To teach seasons of the year, colors and numbers.

Greeting
s

Phrases

1 Hello./ Hi.

2 Good morning.

3 Good afternoon.

4 Good evening.

5 How are you?/How are you doing?

6 Fine./Fine, thanks./Okay.

7 What's new?/What's new with you?

8 Not much./Not too

Greeting someone you never met:

"Hi, my name is Steve. It's nice to meet you."

You can respond to this by saying,

"It's a pleasure to meet you. I'm Jack."

Another common question to ask is

"What do you do for a living?"

You can respond to this by saying,

"I work at a restaurant."

"I work at a bank."

"I work in a software company."

"I'm a dentist."

Usually, you will not need to ask for a name. It is implied that each person should say their name. But in case they don't, you can ask,

"What is your name?"

Many times, I don't hear the name. If you would like for them to repeat their name, you can say,

"What was that again?"

"Excuse me?"

"Pardon me?"

Sample Dialogues

Who are you?

A. What's your name?

B. My name is Bobby. What's yours?

A. Mine is Tom.

B. Where do you live?

A. I live in Boston, and you?

B. I live in New York.

A. It's nice to meet you.

B. It's nice to meet you too.

Person A: "Hi, my name is Steve. It's nice to meet you."

Person B: "I'm Cathy. It's a pleasure to meet you, Steve."

Person A: "What do you do for a living Jack?"

Person B: "I work at the bank."

Person A: "What is your name?"

Person B: "Jackson."

Person A: "What was that again?"

PHRASES

"Hey John, how have you been?"

"Hi Bob, how are you?"

Hi Nancy, what have you been up to?"

"Andy, it's been a long time, how are you man?"

If you meet someone unexpectedly, you can say,

"Hey Jack, it's good to see you. What are you doing here?"

or

"What a surprise. I haven't seen you in a long time. How have you been?"

If you see the person at a restaurant, you can say,

"Do you come to this restaurant often?"

Or at the movie theatre,

"What movie did you come to see?"

Appropriate responses:

"Hi Steve, my name is Mike. It is nice to meet you as well."

"I heard a lot about you from John. He had a lot of good things to say."

"Wow. How long has it been? It seems like more than a year. I'm doing pretty well. How about you?"

A typical response to this type of greeting is simple.

"Not too bad."

If asked what you have been up to, you can respond with,

"Same ole same ole." Or, "The same as usual."

Here are some other example responses.

"I'm pretty busy at work these days, but otherwise, everything is great."

"I'm doing very well."

"I finally have some free time. I just finished taking a big examination, and I'm so relieved that I'm done with it."

Restaurant Responses

"I've been here a couple of times, but I don't come on a regular basis."

"I come pretty often. This is my favorite restaurant."

"I can't believe we haven't seen each other before. I come here at least twice a week."

Movie Response

"I came here to see Matrix Revolution. How about you?"

Formal Greetings

Dialogue 1-

James: Good morning, Professor Austin. How are you doing?

Professor Austin: Good morning, James. I am doing well. And you?

James: I'm great, thank you. This is my friend Emma. She is thinking about applying to this college. She has a few questions. Would you mind telling us about the process, please?

Professor Austin: Hello, Emma! It's a pleasure to meet you. I'm more than happy to speak with you. Please stop by my office next week.

Emma: It's a pleasure to meet you, professor. Thank you so much for helping us.

Professor Austin: Don't mention it. Hopefully, I will be able to answer your questions!

Language Notes

- The greetings good morning/good afternoon/good evening are used at different times of the day to greet people. “Good evening” is often used after 6 p.m. or generally when the sun has set.
- “Good night” is not a greeting: It is used when leaving a place or group of people. Thank you and good night!/Good night, and see you tomorrow.
- When people meet in the United States, it is customary for them to shake hands. A handshake should be firm and usually lasts for about two to three seconds – which allows enough time to say “Nice to meet you.”
- “Don’t mention it” is another way of saying “You’re welcome.” The phrase “You are welcome” is more formal. However, responses such as Don’t mention it./No problem./Happy to help. are informal ways of responding to a thank you

Informal Greetings and Farewells

Dialogue 1-2:

Jane: Hi, Helen! How's it going?

Helen: Fine, thanks – and you?

Jane: Just fine. Where are you off to?

Helen: To the library. I've got a history exam next week and need to start studying. Ugh.

Jane: Oh, no. Well, I'll see you later then. Good luck!

Helen: Thanks. See you later.

The background features a vibrant spring scene. At the top, there are stylized trees with green leaves and brown trunks against a light blue sky with soft white clouds. At the bottom, a lush green field is filled with various flowers, including pink and yellow blossoms, and green foliage. The central area is dominated by a grid of colorful rectangular blocks in shades of yellow, purple, red, blue, and green, all outlined in black. A light blue rounded rectangle is centered over the top part of this grid, containing the word 'spring'. In the bottom right corner, a yellow rounded rectangle contains the word 'SHOW' in white capital letters.
